The further formalities arranged for the day included the presentation to the Duke of the ireedom of the city, a ceremony fixed for 2 o'clock and intrusted to a committee composed of Mayor carter Harrison and Alderman M. D. Madden (chairman), and Messrs. Kerr. Powers, Manoney and McGillen. The large reception room was reserved for this function. Following this event on the afternoon's programme was the visit of the National World's Fair commission and the presentation of a season book to the big Fair, and still later the visit to the Duke of Gov. Alteged and his staff.

The party will be permitted to remain undisturbed this evening. To-morrow morning they will attend the celebration of high pontifical mass at the Church of the Holy Name. An elaborate musical programme has been arranged and it is probable that the Papai Legate, Mgr. Satolil, will officiate as celebrant.

The President's Arrival. Magistrate of the Nation.

The welcome was really inaugurated away down in the sister state of Indiana, where the Presidential train was hearded by a com-for the State, and then Carter Harrison, for the city, told him how much they appreciated his presence and how the entire commonwealth was his to command, while Mr. Cleveland in response remarked that he has a lively remembrance of Chicago's hospitality.

The scenes enacted at the Union Depot on arrival of the Presidents par y were in the main a receition of those that greeted the Duke of Veragna and his suite, only that the throng in waiting was larger and infinitely more exuberant.

It packed the public portion of the big shed from one end to the other and massed itself solidly on the steps, while outside there was a sea of heads for a couple of blocks in either direction.

a sea of heads for a couple of chocks in either direction. President Paimer and Vice-President Peck were in waiting at the depot to express a word of greeting in behalf of the Exposition, and this done, the services of the police and military were called again into requisition to excort the party to the botel where the President's apartments were prepared. This is Mr. Cleveland's second visit here as President of the United States. His first visit was in October, 1887, when he, while making a general tour of the West and Northwest, paid the city the compilment of a pass-

The Liberty Bell.

Early this morning the Liberty Bell was loaded upon a float specially prepared, and when the time fixed upon arrived for the formal parade to the Fair grounds thirteen black horses drew it through the city streets. The procession was headed by a detachment of meunted police, close behind whom rame the band of the Second Infautry of the lillinois National Guard, which discoursed patriotic music unceasingly. Then came a piatoon of police on foot, sweeping the street from curb to curb and making way for the bell on its handsomely decorated float.

The float was decorated by the West Side Woman's Club.

Upon the car, keeping close watch upon their precious charge, were its four staiwart blue-coated guardians who had come from Philadelphia with it in their keeping.

Then came the guard of honor, the Chicago Hussars, on their first parade and resplendent in all the bravery of gold lace and brand-new uniforms.

Next cyme the Governor of Hilmols, John P. Altgeld, and his staff. Then behind the corps of George H. Thomas Cadets came alayor Stuart, of Philadelphia, and Mayor Harrison, of Chicago.

Finally, there were carriages filled with Philadelpolia Councilmen and other city The Liberty Bell.

Finally, there were carriages filled with Philadelphia Councilmen and other city officials, the City Council and dignitaries of Chicago, the members of the World's Columbian Commission, the World's Fair Directory, the local Society of the Sons of Pennaylvania and various city societies.

On the arrival of the bell at the Pennaylvania Building in Jackson Park Mayor Stuart, of Philadelphia, delivered a short address, turning the bell over to the temporary care of Chicago and of the World's Fair officials.

There were responses by Mayor Harrison.
